

PlantKey — Advertisement concepts and prompts

1. The gift came without instructions

Idea

A woman receives a plant, but her friend leaves before she can ask what it is. She uses PlantKey to discover its name and care needs. Warm, relatable comedy for new plant owners.

Clip 1A — The gift arrives — generate 5 seconds

Generation prompt

Vertical 9:16, realistic lifestyle footage. An adult woman with shoulder-length dark hair and a cream shirt sits at an oak table in a warm apartment. A Monstera in a terracotta pot already rests on the table. A friend's hands release the pot and withdraw off-screen. The woman gives a small appreciative smile. Soft afternoon daylight, gentle handheld medium shot. Keep the plant unchanged. One continuous shot, no speaking, text or logos.

Add in the edit: Friend off-screen: "It's really easy to look after."
Caption: "It came without instructions."

Clip 1B — What is it? — generate 5 seconds

Generation prompt

Vertical 9:16, realistic medium close-up. An adult woman with shoulder-length dark hair and a cream shirt sits beside a terracotta-potted Monstera on an oak table. She studies its split leaves, raises an eyebrow slightly, then looks toward an empty doorway. Her expression shifts from pleased to gently puzzled. Warm apartment daylight, subtle camera push-in, understated comedy. Keep the plant unchanged. One continuous shot, no speaking, text or logos.

Add in the edit: Inner-monologue voiceover: "Wait... what is it?" A door-close sound and a short pause in the music finish the joke.

Clip 1C — Take a picture — generate 5 seconds

Generation prompt

Vertical 9:16, realistic side view of an adult woman with shoulder-length dark hair and a cream shirt beside an oak table in a warm apartment. A Monstera in a terracotta pot sits in front of her. She raises a dark smartphone to photograph the plant and steadies her hands. Only the back of the phone is visible. Gentle daylight, steady medium shot, natural movement. One continuous shot, no speaking, text or logos.

Add in the edit: Voiceover: "Let's start with a name." Cut from the raised phone to the real app recording.

App insert — record approximately 8 seconds

Show the real photo selection, identification result and care guidance. Keep the plant name and watering and light advice readable. Match the plant to the surrounding footage. Caption: "Get to know its care needs."

Clip 1D — A little confidence — generate 5 seconds

Generation prompt

Vertical 9:16, realistic lifestyle footage. An adult woman with shoulder-length dark hair and a cream shirt sits beside a terracotta-potted Monstera on an oak table. She lowers her phone, looks at the plant and gives a small reassured smile. Slowly move the camera closer, keeping her face and the distinctive leaves in view. Warm afternoon apartment light, relaxed mood. Preserve the plant's appearance. One continuous shot, no speaking, text or logos.

Add in the edit: Voiceover: "Okay. Let's get to know you."

End card: "New plant? Start with its name." / "PlantKey" / "Identify your first plant."

Suggested 25-second edit: 1A (3s) → 1B (3s) → 1C (3s) → app (8s) → 1D (5s) → end card (3s).

2. You're trying. It's still struggling.

Idea

A woman keeps caring for her plant, but it is drooping and losing leaves. The room feels gloomy and she is frustrated. A friend asks, "Are you sure you know what plant this is?" She scans it with PlantKey and reads its care guidance. The ending feels hopeful because she understands where to start; the damaged leaves remain visible.

Clip 2A — Nothing seems to help — generate 5 seconds

Generation prompt

Vertical 9:16, realistic emotional footage. An adult woman with shoulder-length dark hair and a grey sweater sits beside a drooping Monstera in a worn terracotta pot. A watering jug and a fallen leaf sit on the table. She gently examines a yellowing leaf, releases it and sighs with frustration. Cool overcast window light, muted colours, gloomy apartment. Slow push toward her worried face. One continuous shot, no speaking, text or logos.

Add in the edit: Quiet rain, subdued piano and inner-monologue voiceover:
“I'm trying everything.” Caption: “You're trying. It's still struggling.”

Clip 2B — The question — generate 5 seconds

Generation prompt

Vertical 9:16, realistic over-the-shoulder shot. In a gloomy apartment, an adult woman with shoulder-length dark hair and a grey sweater sits beside a drooping Monstera in a worn terracotta pot. Her friend's green-cardigan shoulder is visible at the edge of the frame, with the friend's face off-screen. The seated woman listens, glances at the plant and gives a small uncertain shrug. Soft cool daylight, still camera, gentle mood. No speaking, text or logos.

Add in the edit: Friend off-screen: “Are you sure you know what plant this is?”
Soften the music under the question.

Clip 2C — Let's find out — generate 5 seconds

Generation prompt

Vertical 9:16, realistic side view in a softly lit apartment. An adult woman with shoulder-length dark hair and a grey sweater holds a dark smartphone beside a drooping Monstera in a worn terracotta pot. She raises the phone toward a distinctive leaf and steadies it to take a photograph. Keep the phone's back toward the camera and its screen hidden. Calm movement, steady medium shot. Preserve the damaged leaves. No speaking, text or logos.

Add in the edit: Friend off-screen: “Let's find out.” Caption: “Start with its name.”

App insert — record approximately 10 seconds

Show the real plant identification, then its watering and light guidance. Give each care section time to be read. Voiceover: “Now I know where to start.”
Caption: “Learn its care needs.”

Clip 2D — A better starting point — generate 5 seconds

Generation prompt

Vertical 9:16, realistic medium shot. An adult woman with shoulder-length dark hair and a grey sweater sits beside a drooping Monstera in a worn terracotta pot. She reads her phone, then looks at the plant with a small hopeful smile. Soft, gently warm window light and a steady camera create a calmer mood. The plant keeps the same drooping and yellowing leaves throughout. Its condition does not transform. One continuous shot, no speaking, text or logos.

Add in the edit: Warmer music and voiceover: “Let’s understand you.”

End card: “Know your plant. Understand its care.” / “PlantKey” / “Identify your plant.”

Suggested 30-second edit: 2A (4s) → 2B (5s) → 2C (3s) → app (10s) → 2D (5s) → end card (3s).

3. My name isn't “the plant”

Idea

A houseplant narrates its life like a mildly offended roommate. Its owner still calls it “the plant,” despite living together for months. She finally scans it with PlantKey and learns its name. Its personality comes from dry voiceover and serious documentary framing.

Clip 3A — Meet the roommate — generate 5 seconds

Generation prompt

Vertical 9:16, photorealistic documentary portrait of a healthy Monstera in a plain terracotta pot on an oak side table. Frame the plant like a serious interview subject in a warm living room. Slowly push toward one distinctive split leaf. Soft window light, shallow depth of field, quiet stillness. The plant remains an ordinary plant, with no face or human movement. One continuous shot, no text or logos.

Add in the edit: Dry plant voiceover: “We’ve lived together for eight months.”

Caption: “Eight months as roommates.”

Clip 3B — Still just “the plant” — generate 5 seconds

Generation prompt

Vertical 9:16, photorealistic living-room shot. A healthy Monstera in a terracotta pot stays sharply focused on an oak side table in the foreground. In the blurred background, an adult woman in a cream shirt gestures casually toward it; her head stays outside the frame. Hold the camera still for a dry documentary-comedy feeling. Warm window light, natural hand movement. Preserve the plant's leaves and pot. One continuous shot, no text or logos.

Add in the edit: Owner off-screen: "Can you move the plant?" Then plant voiceover: "Still no name." Caption: "The plant."

Clip 3C — Time for introductions — generate 5 seconds

Generation prompt

Vertical 9:16, realistic side view in a warm living room. An adult woman with shoulder-length dark hair and a cream shirt stands beside a healthy Monstera in a terracotta pot on an oak side table. She raises a dark smartphone and carefully frames the plant for a photograph. Show only the back of the phone. Gentle window light, subtle handheld camera, natural movement. One continuous shot, no speaking, text or logos.

Add in the edit: Caption: "Time for introductions." Cut to the real app recording.

App insert — record approximately 7 seconds

Show the photograph and identification result. Have the owner read the verified common name aloud, matching the actual result. Briefly show the care section.

Clip 3D — Finally — generate 5 seconds

Generation prompt

Vertical 9:16, photorealistic portrait of a healthy Monstera in a terracotta pot on an oak side table. An adult woman with shoulder-length dark hair and a cream shirt sits softly out of focus behind it, smiling appreciatively. Slowly move the camera closer to the distinctive split leaves. Warm living-room daylight, understated documentary humour. Keep the plant still and botanically unchanged, with no face or human movement. One continuous shot, no speaking, text or logos.

Add in the edit: Dry plant voiceover: "Finally. We're making progress."

End card: "Meet the plants you live with." / "PlantKey" / "Identify your first plant."

Suggested 25-second edit: 3A (4s) → 3B (4s) → 3C (3s) → app (7s) → 3D (4s) → end card (3s).
